

ARB Business Plan 2017

The Architects Registration Board (ARB) was established by an Act of Parliament - the Architects Act – in 1997. ARB is both the independent statutory regulator of all UK architects and the UK's competent authority for architects.

ARB has fifteen members on its Board, eight of whom are members of the public (lay members) appointed by the Privy Council, and seven are architects who are elected by their peers. The term of office for both architect and lay members is four years, with the option of a second consecutive term if reappointed or re-elected.

Our primary purpose is to deliver the Act and in doing so, we will also observe other statutory requirements. In accordance with the provisions of the Architects Act 1997, we work to ensure that architects are competent and have integrity. We set and maintain standards for entry to the Register of Architects, as well as the standards of conduct and practice which are expected of architects.

The Board has identified two objectives from the Act which underpin all of our work. These are:

Protect the users and potential users of architects' services, and

Support architects through regulation

Protect the users and potential users of architects' services: We will protect the users and potential users of architects' services by regulating architects so that the public can be confident that architects are appropriately qualified. We will raise the public's awareness of the Register.

Support architects through regulation: We will maintain and publicly demonstrate the status of architects as competent, qualified professionals, and we will regulate use of the title "architect". We will raise awareness of the Architects Code of Conduct and Practice and the need to maintain their competence.

We will ensure that we act in a manner which is at all times proportionate, while seeking to maximise the efficient and effective use of our resources. We will ensure that we secure value for money, and that we are accountable to our stakeholders. We are committed to working in a transparent, open and accountable way, and our actions and approach to delivering our objectives should demonstrate this.

We will work in conjunction with partners from within the profession, education, the wider built environment and the consumer sectors to deliver our objectives in the most efficient way.

The 2017 Business Plan reflects those objectives and also moves forward the priorities identified by the Board for 2017-2020, which are detailed in the Statement of Priorities which is published on ARB's website.

Format of the Business Plan

The Plan for 2017 has been divided into key areas of our work. Section F identifies the performance indicators which monitor the delivery of our regular work, such as entering appropriately qualified applicants onto the Register, the timely handling of complaints, prescribing the qualifications needed to become an architect and keeping stakeholders informed.

Reporting against the Business Plan

An annual report showing our performance against the Business Plan is given at the first Board meeting after the year end. The management team keeps the plan under review on a monthly basis and also assesses and reports on performance mid-year. The Board is alerted to any major problems in delivery.

The performance indicators in Section F are monitored regularly by the management team and are reported to the Board twice yearly. We monitor financial performance through the budget setting process and management accounts, which are provided to the Board four times a year.

Section A - Maintaining the Quality of and Access to the Register

Under the Architects Act 1997, ARB maintains the UK Register of architects. The Register identifies those who are entitled to use the title "architect" in business and practice as they have met the requirements for qualifications and competence. The Register is the tool through which potential users of architects' services can find an architect and check that an architect is registered. It is also important to architects that they are identified as qualified professionals. The Register must therefore be accurate and accessible. The work which underpins the maintenance of the Register is wide ranging. Digital by default.

Explore whether registration should continue to be qualifications-based and any implications for change at an EU and international level.	It is anticipated that a project scope for the review of routes to registration will be brought to the Board in the first half of 2017. The project scope will include the aims and objectives of the review; key milestones, measures of success and timeframes as well as details as to how the project will operate.	We will have: Tested the basis for ARB's requirements for registration and explored whether changes can be made in order to widen access to the Register, whilst continuing to provide public confidence in the competence of those on the Register. the Architects Act 1997; if the Board does decide to hive off such a review, this part of the Business Plan will need to be reviewed and adjusted accordingly. A revised version of Section A4 will be brought back to the Board at its November 2016 meeting as required.	Consider whether alternative routes to registration would be viable and would widen access to the Register whilst maintaining standards of competence.	Development of any alternative routes to registration would take place in 2017/2018, which may involve major systems redevelopment work, and will need to be costed accordingly and at the appropriate time. The Review is likely to have an impact on a number of existing procedures, e.g., the Procedures for the Prescription of Qualifications; the Prescribed Examination Procedures, ARB's requirements for the maintenance of competence and ARB's Criteria. Depending on the outcomes of the Review, some of the above may also require review and adjustment ahead of ARB's current schedule of review for these areas.	 Considered whether alternative routes to registration are viable and continue to meet ARB's purpose and objectives and if so, have prepared a plan for the implementation of any alternative routes. Engaged with all stakeholders and kept them informed of progress as the review develops. Specific measures of success for key areas of the project scope will be identified and agreed as part of the sign off process for the project plan.

Section B – Maintaining the Qualifications of Architects

Under the Architects Act 1997, ARB prescribes (or recognises) the qualifications required to become an architect for those who gain their qualifications within the UK. We also contribute to the scrutiny and review of those qualifications which are obtained in other European Economic Areas, and which seek to be listed at a European level. We therefore maintain systems for assessing qualifications against set criteria. These criteria are held in common with the Royal Institute of British Architects and the Quality Assurance Agency benchmark for architectural qualifications. The UK criteria also reflect the minimum requirements across the EEA. We work closely with many other organisations and Member States to ensure that our systems are robust, fair and efficient and provide support to Schools and Institutions of Architecture, whilst ensuring that as a regulatory body, we have confidence that prescribed qualifications meet the Board's objectives and criteria.

It is anticipated that there will be 60 (50-60 in 2016) university liaison visits during 2017 and up to 12 (10 in 2016) planning meetings, as well as a number of regular liaison meetings with key stakeholders. It is anticipated that 15+ institutions will seek to renew prescription and 8+ institutions will seek first time prescription for new qualifications; in addition we will receive around 50+ annual monitoring submissions. This reflects an increase on the figures for 2016.	Good relationships with key stakeholders are maintained and developed, as exhibited by individual and collective feedback. Stakeholders believe ARB adds value over and above performance on the prescription function, as evidenced by collective and individual feedback. ARB is kept well informed of possible future developments in order to plan its work and respond to developments.	Priorities A/O

Users and potential users of architects' services need to have confidence in the standards set by us under the Architect's Code of Conduct and Practice, and that we take appropriate action where architects fall below the standards expected. We will seek to raise awareness of the Code and how clients may use the Code to help them in their relationship with their architect, as well as raising awareness and understanding of the Code by architects themselves. We will investigate allegations of unacceptable professional conduct and serious professional incompetence but will also seek to mitigate the risk of such situations arising.

Section D – Raising Public Awareness of the Register and Helping Users and Potential Users of Architects' Services to Make Informed Choices

We recognise that it is not sufficient simply to hold an accurate Register. To be of value, the Register must be accessible, and users and potential users of architects' services must understand the distinction of the title "architect" and the importance of the Register in confirming an architect's registered status. We therefore work to increase awareness of the Register, to inform the public about the qualifications and competence of architects and to alert members of the public to the Architects Code of Conduct and Practice. We also work to prevent the misuse of the title "architect" which may only be used by those on the Register.
